| | Ningxia CDM Service Centre (NXCDM) was set up in Oct. 2003, with approval of Ningxia Provincial Government. With the support and guidance of Ministry of Science and Technology in China (MOST), Ningxia Development and Reform | |

Organization Briefing

Commission, Ningxia Department of Science and Technology, Ningxia Environment Protection Administration, and Ningxia Meteorological Bureau, NXCDM undertakes research, consultation and training in sustainable development on the climate change, CDM development and renewable energy in Ningxia as well as in Western China. It is also to provide turnkey services by helping governmental agencies and enterprises to plan and design CDM projects and arrange for trading of emission reduction index. NXCDM is, therefore, to promote the implementation of Kyoto Protocol and sustainable development of local economy by introducing, through CDM projects, foreign capital and advanced technology into Ningxia and even Western China and by selling emission rights to foreign buyers. With the capital and technical support from Beijing Keji, Ningxia CDM Service Centre was registered.

Project development achievements: Ningxia Helanshan Wind Farm Project and Ningxia Tianjing 30.6MW Wind Farm Project have been successfully registered by EB; Ningxia Tianjing 50.25MW Wind Farm Project has been approved by NDRC; another two projects Liaoning Zhangwu 24.65MW Wind-farm Project and Liaoning Kangping 24.65MW Wind-farm Project developed jointly with Beijing Keji Consulting Co., Ltd. are now applying for the registration now.
